

From: Brewster Kahle -- Internet Archive info@archive.org
Subject: Newsletter: Mueller Report, Micropayments, and Vintage Baseball Radio
Date: April 29, 2019 at 7:09 PM
To: davidfox@archive.org

WANT TO SEARCH THE MUELLER REPORT WITHOUT PAYING $7.99?

The Internet Archive is often a repository for newly released, public domain government documents—for journalists and citizens to access now, and for scholars and academics to dissect and interpret later. The most recent addition to our collection is the Mueller Report, initially released to the public in a PDF format. Did you know that the Internet Archive takes those unwieldy and difficult to navigate PDF docs and automatically turns them into epubs? Text that not only is searchable and more accessible to our low-vision constituents, but always made available to the public for free. To access your copy of the Mueller Report, click below:

READ MORE

TECHNOLOGY + CREATIVITY + NATURE = SOMETHING ENTIRELY NEW

What if we could fuse the self-reliant creativity of Burning Man to the utopian-tech ethos of a hackers camp? What would happen if we brought together 500 dreamers and builders dedicated to reimagining the technologies, laws, markets and values we need for a better Web? That's the idea behind DWeb Camp. For the first time ever, the Internet Archive is convening a 4-day retreat Internet Archive is convening a 4-day retreat at a beautiful spot one hour south of San Francisco. Let's reimagine and build the Web we want and deserve. A Decentralized Web. Join us July 18-21 for something new and rough and waiting to be formed by you.

BUY TICKETS

 EXPLORE

THE ARCHIVE FIGHTS CENSORSHIP

One person's Grateful Dead collection is another person's...terrorist propaganda? At least that is what French authorities mistakenly claimed in an email to the Archive that falsely identified more than 550 collections on archive.org as terrorist content to be removed. This request came right as the EU Parliament passed a regulation that will force all platforms, even small/nonprofit, to remove alleged terrorist content within one hour. Most of what got mistakenly flagged belonged to some of our most visited and popular collections, including live music, television news, and genealogical materials--dangerous foreshadowing of potential censorship to come. To see what else got flagged, click below.

READ MORE

 CONNECT

A BIG WIN FOR MICROPAYMENTS

This week, we raise our glass to the micropayment. That small, seemingly insignificant fraction of a penny that, when aggregated over time, can pack a mighty punch! Over the past couple of years, Brave browser users have been expressing their gratitude to the Internet Archive by tossing BAT (Brave Attention Tokens) into our digital tip jar. We recently cracked it open, tallied up the tips, and got a huge surprise. How much did we raise, and what does this mean for the future of the Internet?

READ MORE

WATCH

ELECTRONIC MALL MADNESS

Have you ever found yourself thinking “I wish target.com was a real place I could visit”? Once upon a time, retail hubs known as shopping malls dotted the land where John Q Public could purchase anything from a washer/dryer combo to several apples. 1957’s “Shopping Can Be Fun: A New Concept in Merchandising” lovingly profiles one such oasis: the Hillsdale Shopping Center. With grocers, banks, puppet shows and free parking as far as the eye can see, this monument to post-war prosperity boasts all the amenities of a budding city-state. All roads lead to Hillsdale!

WATCH

EXPLORE

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALLGAME!

It's that time of year again! Grab your peanuts, Cracker-Jacks and a $38 beer because baseball season is underway! While you're chomping at the bit for more action as the 2019 season unfolds, take a look back at some unforgettable games with this massive collection of classic radio broadcasts. We recommend the 1960 World Series' legendary Game 7, where the New York Yankees faced off against the Pittsburgh Pirates, culminating in an historic conclusion unmatched to this day. Take it from Yogi Berra: “Love is the most important thing in the world, but baseball is pretty good, too.”

EXPLORE

Articles We're Reading

Graphic Journalism: The Other Side Of Silicon Valley

Today: The Internet Archive Wants To Be A Digital Library For Everything

PBS: Filmmaker Unearths Historical Treasures In Home Movies

Gizmodo: Tech Executives Deleted Their Blog Posts Addressing Sexual Misconduct Allegations

The Register: French Internet Cops Issue Terrorist Takedown For... Grateful Dead Recordings?

We're Hiring!

Development Email Campaign Manager

Partner Coordinator - Archive It

Program/Product Manager: Web Archiving And Data Services

Technical Support Specialist - Archive-It

A Little Bit Funds a Lot of Bytes - Donate Today!

You are receiving this email because of your relationship to the Internet Archive.
Internet Archive, 300 Funston Ave. San Francisco, CA
Privacy Policy

unsubscribe from this list